Got a Minute?

Introducing the Merrimack Valley Time Exchange!

Ever really wanted something you just couldn't afford? Ever helped a friend or neighbor just because it was the right thing to do, not knowing if the favor might come back around? Ever thought it would be nice to track all those little ways you "pay it forward" every day?

The Merrimack Valley Time Exchange Helps members do all these things and more!

What is the Merrimack Valley Time Exchange?

The Merrimack Valley Time Exchange is a member based time bank where services and skills are provided for "time credits." One hour of time spent on a service or skill is worth one unit of credit in the exchange.

The time exchange is a community driven method for mobilizing people and resources in a way that rewards members who engage in a "neighbors-helping-neighbors" style of building community and social connections.

"I can offer very basic video production assistance, and also help you access very low-cost video production equipment if you'd like to learn to do it yourself."

— Jessica Wilson

"Have an event coming up but need some help planning it? I have experience in planning tradeshow and events and may be able to help with yours!"

— Ashley Cantrell

Time Bank Movement

The Merrimack Valley Time Exchange is part of an international movement of time banks focused on community based methods for building value and leveraging assets in a cash poor economic environment
